MILLE LUETTA, A FEATURE

Parade Will Be Held Next Monday Evening, at Which Time Fully a Dozen Fire Companies Will Participate—Plenty of Music And Dancing

Having as one of its distinct features the death-defying dive of 300 feet, suspended by her teeth from a derrick erected in Coyle's field, the North Charleroi Fire department will formally open its bazaar tomorrow in a gala week that will be enjoyed by the populace, of not only the borough to the north of us, but by people generally. The bazaar, which opens tomorrow, will continue August 1, 2, 4, 5, and 6—six big nights. The bazaar is given to secure funds to complete the payment for the new fire truck. The sum of $10,000 can be witnessed free of charge. The attraction was secured at considerable expense, and the public will doubtless show its appreciation of the firemen by its liberal patronage at the bazaar.

The firemen, assisted by a number of the patriotically inclined men and young men of the borough, have completed a large portable dancing pavilion, this pavilion will accommodate 100 couples. Music will be furnished by the Keystone Serenaders Jazz orchestra.

The parade will take place Monday evening, August 4, at which time fully a dozen fire companies, inclusive of the North Charleroi Fire department, will parade the streets of the borough of North Charleroi.

Friday evening, August 1, will be featured by square dancing, which announcement will doubtless be hailed by the old-timers who still know how to dance all and "eleven left." Lee Honsaker will call the numbers.

There will be refreshments, consisting of ice cream, pop, lemonade, etc.; side shows featured by "U-Know and I-Know," Ruth and Ruby wildcats; Russia, a strange girl, and other meritorious features.

At the various booths will be for sale all kinds of merchandise, all of the better class; there will be plenty of lighting from many incandescent

JUDGE LANDIS TO SPEAK AT THE LEGION CONVENTION

Philadelphia, July 30—Judge K. L. Landis, chairman of the American Legion Child Welfare Committee and Sergeant Samuel D. Woodfill, who was cited as the "greatest soldier of the world war among the A. E. F." will be the principal speakers at the sixth annual convention of the Pennsylvania Department, American Legion, at Greensburg August 21, 22 and 23.

The speakers named were announced at the Legion headquarters here. It was also announced that prizes totaling $850 would be awarded to posts competing in the parade Saturday, August 23.

Mother of 17 Is Dead At Her Home

Mrs. Sarah Jane Wilson, 58 years old, widow of David M. Wilson, died at her home in the borough of California Sunday night after a lingering illness.

Mrs. Wilson, whose maiden name was Fauver, was born in Winchester, Va., December 26, 1865, and in 1891 removed to this state. She was the mother of 17 children, 12 of whom are living. She also leaves a brother and 25 grandchildren.

Funeral services were to be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock, with interment in the Highland cemetery at California.

Two Women And Boy Injured In An Auto Crash

Two women and a boy were injured in an automobile collision last night at 9 o'clock, which occurred at the Allen crossing near Belle Vernon.

Mrs. William Helien, who resides near Lynnwood, one of the women injured, accompanied by her 15-year-old son, and their guest, Mrs. John son of Republic, driver of the Buick touring car in which they were riding, were returning to their home from West Newton, where they had spent the evening visiting with Mrs. Helien's son, Russell Helien, of that place. Just as they reached the crossroads, a Nash touring car, driven by John C. Curry of Monongahela driving from Belle Vernon to Rebooth, crashed into the rear end of the Buick, swinging it around causing it to crash into a telephone pole. The Buick was completely wrecked. The Nash escaped with small damage.

The injured members were taken to the office of Dr. A. J. Marston of Belle Vernon, and later removed to the Helien home. Mrs. Helien suffers with a badly sprained ankle, while Mrs. Johnson was cut about the head and face by the flying glass of the windshield and sustained a number of broken ribs. The boy was also cut about the face and head by the flying glass.

The wrecked machine is now in the Hill Top garage at Belle Vernon. The occupants of the Nash were able to resume their journey after the delay.

PLANS FOR ANNUAL REUNION

Plans for holding the twenty-fifth annual reunion of the members of the 16th Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry, who saw service in the Spanish-American war at Monongahela on Saturday, August 16, have about been completed. Hundreds of invitations have been distributed among the scattered members of the famous regiment. The general committee, composed of W. S. Shepler, John Daniels, W. T. Van Voorhis and W. A. McGregor, expect a larger attendance of veterans than ever before. Among companies which will send practically a full representation to the 25th reunion are:

A, of Monongahela; B, of New Brighton; C, of Uniontown; D, of Cornwallville; E, of Mt. Pleasant; H, of Cornwallville; I, of Mt. Pleasant; H, of Washington; I, of Greensburg, and K, of Waynesburg.

The program will start early Saturday morning and continue throughout the day. One "big time" is assured by the committees in charge, and all members of the "Old Fighting Tenth" are expected to be present. Monongahela has always afforded plenty of entertainment for the veterans and the 16th of August should be a day to be remembered by the members of the Tenth.

CROWE TRYING TO BLOCK THE "MEDICAL DEFENSE"

Criminal Court, Chicago, July 30.—State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, and his staff of assistants made vigorous effort today to prevent admission of the long-awaited "medical defense" of Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, confessed murderers of Robert Franks.

A bitter fight between the state's attorney and Clarence Darrow, defense lawyer, also opened as soon as blocked the presentation of the defense testimony.

Dr. William A. White of Washington, D. C., was called to the witness stand as the first to testify for the defense when the State case rested.

Dedicate A New School-Fine Building

Monday evening the new school building at Ginet Hill, now nearing completion, was officially dedicated.

burgh, with many of the men who worked on the building and their wives were present. A meeting of the Union township school board preceded the dedication when the contractor turned over the keys of the building to the school authorities. Those present then adjourned to the spacious lawn of the George W. Yohe farm where a reception was held and a picnic lunch served. The building is completed now, excepting for the final interior work and some grading. It is one of the finest rural schools in this section of the state and presents an imposing appearance, being built on a knoll which rises above the surrounding country a short distance back from the Monongahela-Washington Pike. The building contains eight class rooms, with an auditorium, offices, and other necessary rooms.

Sues County For Death Alleged Due To Rough Highway

A suit has been filed by Peter and Anna Toussaint of Monessen, to recover $25,000 damages from Washington county for the death of their son, Jacob Toussaint, killed on February 29, 1924, when struck by a street car when his automobile was thrown from the road, as they allege, by a series of holes, and onto the car track, on the county road from Do-highway and onto the tracks of the Pittsburgh Railways company, directly in the path of an approaching street car, which struck the machine. Toussaint was thrown from the motor car and his death resulted almost instantly. It is charged that it is the duty of the defendant company to keep this highway in safe repair.

THE ACCUSED FAIL TO APPEAR

James Kirkwood, Ed. H. Bertowyle and G. Bertowyle, all of North Charleroi, who were arrested by Officer George W. Corey Monday afternoon, charged with fighting, forfeited their forfeits of $12 each by failing to appear for a hearing before Burgess J. Bryant Tussing last night.

Two Italian boys, who gave fictitious names (names not known to the police) who were arrested at Seventh street and McKean avenue at 11 o'clock Saturday night by local patrolmen and posted $12 each for their appearance before Burgess Tussing last night, also forfeited their forfeits by their non-appearance.

MEDICAL SCIENCE BROUGHT INTO CASE CHICAGO MURDERERS

today started the task of slackening the rope drawn about the necks of Richard Loeb and Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., for the murder of Robert Franks, 14-year-old schoolboy.

Clarence Darrow, chief defense counsel, is taking the testimony of eight defense witnesses, and the approximately 100 witnesses produced by the state to test what State's Attorney Crowe terms "a perfect hanging case," at the hearing before Chief Justice John R. Caverly.

Darrow will support his material testimony with the testimony of more than a score of lay witnesses, the plans calling for the appearance of the parents, brothers, and friends of the boys, and possibly the boys themselves.

Darrow and his alienists have decided to shun testimony showing the boys are totally insane. Proof of inner necessary rooms.

Mary Biargi, 13 Years Old, Sinks Below the Surface of Water At Monongahela Before Aid Can Reach Her

SOON RECOVER THE BODY

Accident Occurred At 1 In Afternoon—Efforts At Resuscitation Prove Futile—Second Girl to Be Drowned At Monongahela This Summer

Mary Biargi, 13 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Biargi of Monongahela, was drowned at the foot of Diamond street in the city named at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The body was recovered in a short time following the accident, but efforts to revive the girl were barren of results.

The child went to the river with girl companions shortly after the lunch hour. She was a good swimmer, and went out a considerable distance from the shore and was seized with cramps. Her playmates were attracted by her cries, but before they could reach her she sank to her doom. After the firemen rescued the body in 40 minutes in about the same place where the child sank below the surface.

There survive her parents, two sisters, and a brother.

This is the second drowning to occur at Monongahela this summer, the first being that of Margaret Turnbull, aged nine years, at the North Street bathing beach early in June.

THE CHAUTAUQUA FORMALLY OPENS

The Swarthmore Chautauqua formally opened to good-sized crowds at the Pines, both afternoon and evening sessions. In the afternoon there was Junior Chautauqua for all Juniors, and besides this feature people enjoyed to the fullest extent the excellent music as furnished by the Pan-American Marimba band, which lived up to its reputation of being one of the best organizations of its kind in the United States.

Last evening the band again pleased with its selections, and the lecture by Frank Tannebaum entitled "Crime and Punishment" was instructive and interesting.

His talk was based on the theory that there is a little bit of good in the worst of us and a little bit of bad in the best of us and it ill behooves any of us to sit as a judge and jury on our fellows without investigating causes of their downfall and placing the blame where it belongs.

The program for the Chautauqua for tomorrow is as follows:

Morning, Junior Chautauqua.

Afternoon, concert, Marchetti's Swiss Yodlers; "Broadcasting Youth's Achievements," O. H. Benson.

Night, Marchetti's Swiss Yodlers; lecture.

BOY MAKES NAME FOR SELF IN A MILITARY CAMP

Another Charleroi youth has been making a name for himself and his town in military camp. Paul Wagner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wagner of Meadow avenue, High school student and athlete, who has been stationed at Fort Monroe, near Old Point Comfort, Virginia, for the past six weeks, won three gold medals in the field meet held Thursday, July 24.

The meet is always held as one of the closing events of the camp activities, and Paul took first place in the 440-yard dash, the 880-yard dash, and he also ran in the winning relay team. In addition to winning the medals, Paul was selected, one of three, out of 500 to continue a course of electrical signaling and radio work at Camp Vale, as Asbury Park, New Jersey. This is a very high honor and his parents and the townspeople have reason to feel proud of the local boy. He will return to Charleroi the first of September, ready to resume his studies at the local High school. Paul leaves today for Camp Vale, from Camp Monroe.

CONSUMERS BEAT THE CHARLEROI TEAM BY A SCORE OF 4-1

Fatal weakness with the willow, coupled with Beatty's wildness, were the main reasons for the defeat of the Charleroi Baseball team at the hands of the Harmarville Consumers.

at Harmarville, last night. The score was 4-1.

Beatty was opposed on the mound by "Bullet" Joe Miller, who held Charleroi to five hits, while the Consumers were garnering eight from the delivery of Beatty. Beatty, however, fanned seven batters on balls while Miller only issued one base on balls. Both twirlers struck out four men. The Consumers bunched hits and bases on balls in the fourth inning for three of their four runs. Charleroi scored a run also in the fourth on Krosnoff's two-base blow, followed by a triple by Lou Phillips, the latter named getting two of the five bingles secured by Charleroi. Davis did not play, Lattin covering right. The score:

FIGHTING INVASION JAPANESE BEETLE

Philadelphia, July 30.—Field agents and entomologists of the agricultural department today were combating the spread of the Japanese beetle in eastern Pennsylvania following an invasion of thousands of the insects from New Jersey.

Swarms of beetles have flown across the Delaware river, aided by a strong wind. Authorities believe the insects migration across the river unprecedented as the normal expansion of the beetle is from eight to ten miles a year.

Eastern Pennsylvania is already under quarantine by state and government in an attempt to stop the infestation from New Jersey and exterminate the beetle.

Authorities do not believe another flight of the beetles is likely and a drive is now on to kill the pests that gained entrance to Pennsylvania through the "freak" flights.

DAVIS CAUSTIC IN HIS SPEECH

Dark Harbor, Maine, July 30.—A short, sharp arraignment of the Coolidge administration, as assessment said by his friends to be vastly clearer, and more concise than the Democratic platform itself, constitutes the high spot in John W. Davis' formal speech accepting the Democratic nomination for the presidency.

The speech is completed, and Davis, greatly refreshed by nearly two weeks vacation at the home of Charles Dana Gibson here, started back for New York today in a fighting spirit, ready for his long campaign. But one stop was scheduled enroute and that was the one at Rockland, where the county Democratic organization had arranged a big reception for the candidate.

Davis' address, which will be his first direct appeal to the American voters stress the following points:

Corruption in government. International relations. Taxation and tariff. States' rights. Agricultural relief. Conservation.

The address will make a general indictment of the way the government at Washington has been administered during the four years, but it is not expected to outline specific charges except in a few instances. The main attack will be made on President Coolidge's attempts to half the congressional inquiries, and will also assail his reluctance to act after charges had been preferred against some of the cabinet members.

"Honesty in government" will be one of the campaign slogans that Davis will set up in his speech.

Cheated Of The Things They Gave Their Lives For.

Most people live in the belief that they are taking every precaution to safeguard their lives and the lives of their children, are mistaken.

How many people toil and struggle in order to live, overlook the lack of protection from sickness and accident that may take away the dearest thing—LIFE. In working to safeguard our families we should think of how they may be taken care of in case ill health and need of hospital care comes. Keen business judgment and experience are as essential in looking into the future and preparing for emergencies that may endanger our health, as much as being thrifty and industrious, and striving to supply all the comforts of life. Unless we do that, we do not guarantee our families' comfort or security.

It is all right to leave the responsibility of restoring the health of a sick person to the family Doctor, but any one having reasonable intelligence knows that more lives could be saved if we had a good hospital to go to, where the Doctors could work to the maximum of advantage in trying to restore health, where the trained nurses could give their time daily in relays, twenty-four hours per day, to doing nothing but watch the sick person.

It is all right to place all confidence in the Doctor. That is as it should be, but the Doctor must have a workshop the same as any other mechanic or merchant must have a place to work.

The prospective new Charleroi-Monessen Hospital will supply the residents of this community with just such a workshop to cure accidents and disease.

In raising the money with which to erect this much-needed Hospital, every citizen, no matter how modest his income, is expected to subscribe liberally.

But how much should I subscribe? This question will be on the lips of hundreds during the week of the hospital building fund campaign.

To that question there is but one answer!

Up until this time the public, and that means YOU and us, has never been asked to contribute to the hospital for a really comprehensive, constructive program. Some few citizens generously helped, but the community as a whole has never given the matter very serious thought. Consequently, the hospital, as it stands today, has cost the public very little.

How much would it be worth to you to have a hospital brought to the community? Answer this question and you have answered the question of how much you ought to contribute.

Then ask yourself this question: "Suppose my wife, my mother—my baby, were desperately ill or injured, and only an adequately equipped hospital could keep life's slender thread from breaking—AND WE HAD NO HOSPITAL! How much would the hospital be worth to you in that case?"

There's only one answer! The hospital is worth to you whatever value you place on the lives of your loved ones!

And this problem is one for YOUR solution. Give all you can. It's—

Dollars or Lives?

CAMPAIGN FUNDS.

The Lafolettian party has already issued an appeal for campaign funds, and though critical of capitalism, will have to call upon capitalists for aid. It hopes to raise a great sum and may have need of every dollar it can lay hands on, for, in addition to ordinary expense, it will have to establish the machinery of a new party. The records are said to show that in 1920 the Republican National Committee spent $5,313,729 and the Democratic National Committee $1,318,274. The Kenyon committee reported the expenditures for the campaign before and after the nominations were made as $8,100,739 by the Republicans and $2,289,170 by the Democrats. In summing up the results of its investigation the committee significantly added: "These figures do not by any means represent the entire amount of money expended in the campaign." It is only reasonable to expect that sums equally great, if not greater, will be spent this year.

There is said to be much "senseless waste" of funds, but the amount actually needed under present conditions is unquestionably great. The campaign managements of all parties will have to reckon with the Borah committee which will be in session and will require of them at intervals of ten days full statements of their receipts and expenditures. Whether these will be submitted in precisely the form which the law demands is another matter. Sometime ago there found its way into print a letter of the Republican National Committee pointing out that no contributor need be limited as to amount because the sum, however large, could be divided and listed under several names. When this matter was brought up in the Senate no less a person than Senator Lodge, as reported, gave an indirect and cynical endorsement of this convenient method. We may rest assured that similar endorsement will be widespread in practice if not in theory.

NORMAL LIFE IN BRAZIL'S COFFEE
CAPITAL SOON

Buenos Aires, July 30.—The civil population of Sao Paulo has started returning to its homes, according to messages from Santos today and restoration of normal life in Brazil's great coffee capital is only a matter of a short time.

Thousands of Paulistas, wearied by weeks of danger from bitter civil warfare which raged three weeks while rebellious state troops held their city, straggled down the highways leading from the interior to pick up the threads of daily life so rudely broken when the rattle of musketry warned them of the military outbreak at midnight, July 4.

They found their magnificent municipal theatre, one of the finest theatre buildings in the world, shattered by shell fire; great public buildings scarred by machine gun bullets and the huge red brick Luz railway station in ruins.

Military patrols still were active and many of refugees were questioned carefully before being allowed to enter the districts in which they lived before the rebellion.

Many of the people had undergone terrible hardships, camping in the open after they had been driven terror-stricken from their homes by the federal bombardment.

Meantime private messages to newspapers here indicated the strength of the rebellion is not yet broken and that a considerable body of rebel troops, which retreated from Sao Paulo city when the federal advance became overwhelming Monday, have been reformed in the interior of the state.

It was not believed, however, that the strong federal forces will have much trouble in dispersing them.

World's Storehouse

Mexico is often referred to as the "storehouse of the world" because of the great fertility of its soil and its almost inexhaustible natural resources. Humboldt, the German naturalist, nearly a hundred years ago spoke of Mexico as the "treasure house of the world." Although still undeveloped, the country is rich in minerals and has realized regions of the earth.

How Chief Got His Name

It is said that "Rain-in-the-Face" received his name as the result of a personal encounter when about ten years of age with a Cheyenne boy, whom he worried; he received several blows in the face, causing it to be marked with blood and streaks where the paint had been washed away.

And your spine is feeling proud;
Don't forget to up and fling it,
At a soul who's feeling blue;
For the moment that you sling it
It's a boomerang to you.

Would Shut Down Gas Works

"My stomach has been so filled with gas for the last three years that I felt I could pretty near supply our town. I also had frequent pains in right side in region of the appendix. Doctors didn't help much. One day my neighbor told me about what a wonderful remedy had come for him and I got a bottle of our druggist. I can say that it will do all more than you claim for it." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists.

equipped by a diet kitchen, a number of private rooms, with a solarium connecting through with a main female medical cases in the extreme of the wing, connecting with a large sun parlor for the use of the same. Adequate baths and closets are also provided. The left wing of this floor is similarly arranged for male medical patients, with a dispensary occupying the space allotted to the diet kitchen on the right.

In the third wing, extending directly back from the main corridor, is located the elevator, though not opening directly into the main reception corridor, but in immediate proximity to the Receiving Ward, which is reached from the drive at rear of building. The balance of this wing is devoted to the Maternity section, composed of Nursery, Delivery Room, Maternity Ward and several private rooms, which wing being more apart from the rest of the building, will maintain for quietness of such patients as will be located there.

The arrangement of second floor is similar to first, other than off the main corridor in front is located the Superintendent's Room with bath connecting, Chief Nurse's Room, and private rooms and wards. The rear wing floor thereon is devoted to the Surgical Section, containing two operating rooms, recovery room, sterilizing room, dressing rooms, Doctor's Consultation room, with a few private rooms. The Ward sections on second floor are devoted to male and female surgical cases, respectively, left and right.

The basement portion, being kept well above ground, is utilized entirely for essential purposes, as in the main portion is the stair hall, X-ray and Microscopic Laboratories, with dark room. To the right is Staff Nurses' Dining Room, Main Kitchen, connecting by corridor with the Diet Kitchen, which communicates with a similar room on each floor above by dumb waiter. Here also is a storage room and cold storage room. The remainder of the basement space under this wing is devoted to a laundry into which opens a chute for soiled linens from both floors above. In left wing is arranged a department for treatment of specific diseases, with operating room, private rooms, and ward. This department is reached by

PEGGY JOYCE

AND HER

MARITAL WOES

New York, July 30—The most recent matrimonial marathon essayed by the actress Peggy Joyce drew to an end today with the actress and her Swedish count-husband in a neck and neck sprint to get their "stories into the papers and their annulment papers into court."

"I paid his laundry bills," shrieked Peggy.

"She loved only my title. Oh, what I could tell if only I were not a gentleman," retorted Count Costa Mermer, the stalwart, fair-haired Scandinavian nobleman whom the actress started loving, honoring and obeying June 2 at Atlantic City.

Having had a little more experience than her husband, Peggy beat him to the publicity by a few hours. — with a tale of woe and non-support, and $10,000 spent on a regretted honeymoon. The count countered by getting his court action under way first, having a summons in an action for annulment of marriage served upon his wife as she emerged from the courtroom.

Following which he hinted at a stormy time having been had by all since he became Peggy's fourth husband.

"What about what Peggy said that day after the wedding—that at last she had found real love?" the count was asked.

The Swedish word for love sounds something like "Heiska," which is almost exactly what the count replied.

FEDERATION MUST DECIDE ON ITS

POLITICAL STAND

Washington, July 30—A decision of farthest reaching importance to the American labor movement and the La Follette independent candidacy today was being approached by the executive council of the American Federation of Labor.

Eleven members of the council will meet at Atlantic City Friday in the most important session since the war. They must decide whether the federation will go along with Robert M. La Follette or remain in non-partisan political isolation.

Labor leaders here admit the La Follette independent presidential candidacy is the biggest issue before the council. They also admit that they haven't the slightest idea what will be done about it.

Of one thing they are certain—that ill-feeling with the federation is inevitable whether council endorses La Follette or whether it does not.

The Atlantic City meeting is expected to last a week or ten days, and will be taken up with routine labor matters as well as politics. The program has not yet been announced. Samuel Gompers, president of the federation, who has been ill in New York for six weeks is already in Atlantic City and will preside.

Officials at National headquarters today refused to speculate as to what will be done about La Follette but there are three possible courses of action, they say: La Follette may be endorsed unqualifiedly; the presidential race may be ignored, or La Follette may be given indirect support as "acceptable."

The third course is suggested by the action of Labor in 1912. Then, as now, there were three candidates in the field—Taft, Wilson and Roosevelt.

Taft was opposed bitterly. Roosevelt's platform was entirely satisfactory, but it was feared that he could not be elected. Support was thrown to Wilson as the "acceptable candidate."

MEDICAL SCIENCE BROUGHT INTO CASE

sanity would mean that the pleas of guilty as to murder are illegal, as no insane person can plead guilty. Darrow and his alienists will make an effort to prove the boys are not wholly responsible for the crime.

The first defense alienist scheduled to take the stand at this morning's session is Dr. William A. White of Washington, D. C. Dr. White has made an exhaustive study of the sex life of the two defendants and will trace its influence from early youth to the present time. Other defense alienists on the list are Dr. James W. Hall, of Chicago, Dr. William Healy, of Boston, Dr. William J. Hickson, Dr. William O. Crohn, Dr. Archibald Church, Dr. Hugh P. Patrick, and Dr. Harold D. Sanger, all of Chicago.

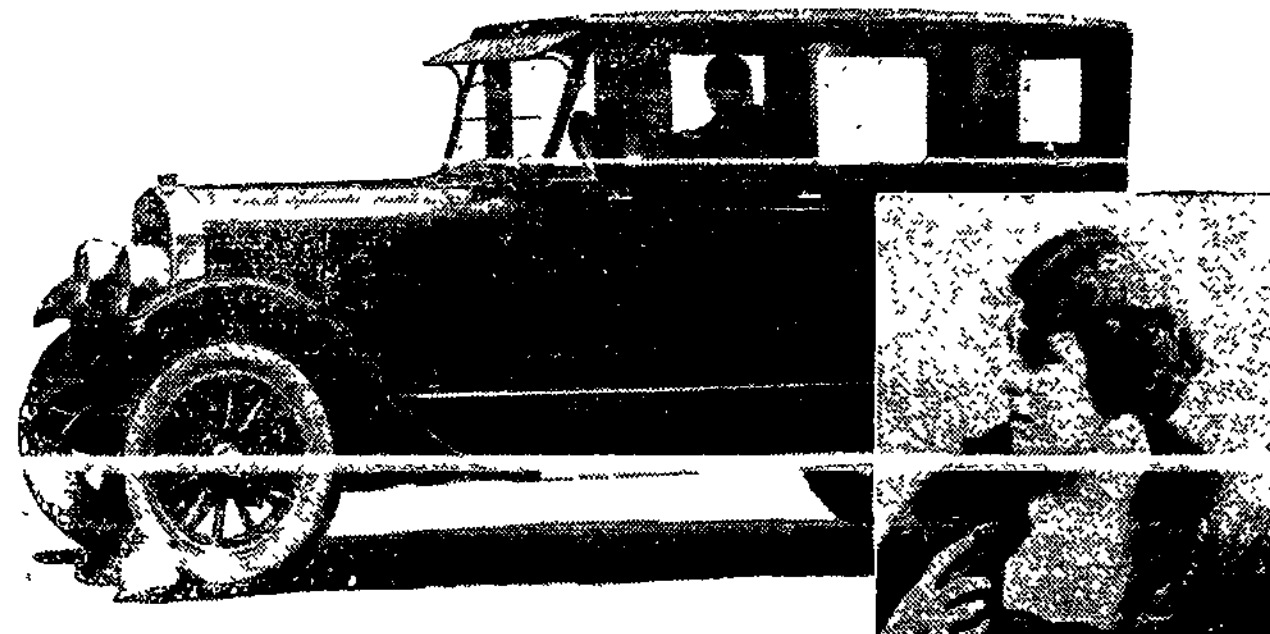

Crowe has served notice on the defense that any attempt to show the boys insane will be met by the state with a demand that a jury pass on their mental status. Crowe takes the position that if these boys are sane, they should hang; if they are insane, they should go to an asylum for the criminally insane. Crowe said that sentence to life imprisonment, desired by the defense, would be only "a half way measure."
